In Darkness Rises you take control of a hero who dashes sword first into the rising darkness spreading across the land. For you to go on as you hack and slash your way through the hordes of monsters, including a PvP mode for you to test your skills against other players. Because there's so much going on when you first start the game, you'll want to prioritize which class abilities are when you encounter them in PVP or in a group dungeon or raid. Beyond raw knowledge, the game grants you new skills against other players.

About The “Best in Slot” Suggestions
When you're on the item screen, you'll see a red dot next to it. This does help you take a quick glance at your items to know which ones you should focus on, but you should check the item info page as often as possible to observe your progression. You can find the character stat page in the gear tab. When you're on that page, you'll see an overview of your character, including your class, race, level, and PvP stats. You'll also see a massive page detailing your character's attack, defense, and PvP information. You'll want to remember how to get this page as you climb your way up to level 30.

Enhancement and stat priorities
Only enhance equipment with stats you want to prioritize. You don't want to equip a weapon with stats that you don't want to focus on, such as defense, health, or attack. This will build up the stats you want your character focusing on. When you start to get to level 25, refer to your character's stats and skills to determine the stat priorities you want to enhance.

Track Your Character Stats to Keep Up with Progression
You'll find you're going to loot plenty of equipment to add to your character. Use Your Blacksmith Wisely
